,449 miles from Rome to a point on the coast of Brazil is one of which the Italian people may well be proud. Mussolini and the Fascist ideal of the Italian state which he is trying to instill in his people must be given no small share of the credit. It is unlikely that Italians a generation ago would have undertaken the flight, or that, having under taken it, they would have carried it through to so notions and theories of fascism, but we do not blind ourselves to the fact that the new creed has stimulated the energies of the Italian people.

Ferrarin and Delprete have broken the rec for distance flying and they did it in a flying boat. Lindbergh and many of the other successful distance flyers have been using land planes. If anything had gone wrong while they were over the sea they were doomed to drown. That was the fate of Bertaud, Hill and Payne in Old Glory, ventured out over the Atlantic and the Pacific. The Italians flew in a boat. If they had been forced to descend they would have had some chance to make needed repairs, provided the sea

Information regarding the equipment of the Italian plane has been scanty. It is probable that Make Chicago the First City in the World, the Italians have made a considerable improvement either in the design of flying boats or in the airplane engine. Ordinarily it is assumed that the flying boat is less efficient in the air than the land plane, because it is heavier. Possibly the 6. Possibly, too, the Italian engine builders have a motor that is lighter than others of its power, or more economical of fuel. Either of these improve ments might account for the greater cruising radius which made it possible for the Italians to establish their world's record for sustained flight

[Copyright: 1928; By the Chicago Tribune.] MODERATE SMOKING DOES LITTLE HARM.

HE moderate use of tobacco very little harm. This is the opinion of Dr. W. E. Dixon, a British physician. The task he set himself was to determine how much harm tobacco did to the man who used cause most tobacco users regard them-selves as what might be called casual

The especially harmful ingredients of tobacco smoke are: nicotine, carbon monoxide and pyridin, and pyridin-like of paper, tobacco, or almost any weed produces pyridin. It is produced by the smoldering or burning of cigaret paper, cigar wrappers and of tobacco. The boy who amokes cross vine or grape vine, or any of the leaves that small boys smoke, gets a full dose of pyridin. In fact, smoking these tobacco substitutes produces more pyridin than does smoking tobacco itself.

largely limited to the eyes and the throat. The so-called cigaret throat, the cigaret cough, and the cigaret sore is only a part of the cause.

Any smoldering fire produces some Any smoldering fire produces sor carbon monoxide. Carbon monoxide breathe air reeking with tobacco smoke men sit around in a room for several hours, smoking like volcances, the air reeking with smoke, they pick up dangerous dose of carbon monoxide The man who smokes an occasional pipe or cigar while in the open air gets very little of the poisonous chemical. Cigaret smokers who inhale get more

Very much the most poisonous ingredient of tobacco smoke is nicotine. If the tobacco is green, poorly cured or moist the smoker gets considerable nicotine. On the other hand, if a man smokes a well cured, dry tobacco in a pipe, arranged so that the bowl keeps cool, and with a porous bowl or stem, he gets far less nicotine. The most effective arladen with nicotine is one in which the volatile matter is drawn through hot, wet tobacco.

Men become habituated to the use of nicotine. This means that their tiscues become quite tolerant of it. There are many people who find that tobacco quiets their nerves. It may be they only think it does. It may be that "they are supersensitive neurotics." Dr. Dixon says these points are of minor importance. The great fact is that they want to use it and, in some way or another, using it puts them in the frame ind they want to be in.

In view of these reduced prices and of the fact that the new cars will be priced higher than the present cars were before this reduction, the purchaser of a Packard Six has now not only a great price advantage, but also immediate use of the most successful and popular car Packard has ever built-and at the lowest price at which new Packard cars have ever been offered.

Your used car will be accepted as cash and if of average value will more than make the down payment on the new car. Your cash outlay will then be only $100 or so a month on a Packard Six which the average owner keeps more than four times the payment period.

Moses Upsets Plans.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire, who once called the prohibition iaw a "jackass law," has some pronounced ideas on ways and means of combatting Al Smith in the wet east and would have carried them into effect if he had been made eastern manager. But Moses would not take the place unless given virtually unlimited authority in direction of the campaign in the east, and the high command was unwilling to give him or any other eastern manager that much power. It is evident that Mr. Hoover and Dr. Work intend to run this campaign from Washington. ## He Couldn't Find the Right Secretary Until He Used a Tribune Want Ad-Then . . .

H.B. ROUSE & CO. ORIGINATORS & MANUFACTURERS OF LABOR-SAVING TOOLS & DEVICES FOR PRINTERS-2214-16 WARD ST, CHICAGO

"You may appreciate the effectiveness of your Want Ads when I tell you that for ten days I have had all the private and business channels at my command attempting to find me a good private secretary, and all reported a scarcity of well trained girls.

"My Want Ad in your paper gave me a choice among at least fifty girls, 60% of the applicants having been satisfactory and of the high character specified in my ad.

"This has proved to me that the World's Greatest Newspaper is as efficient as it claims to be."

O. H. KEPLEY, General Manager, H. B. Rouse & Co.

WHEN Mr. O. H. Kepley, General Manager of H. B. Rouse & Company, needed a private secretary he tried every method he knew to obtain one. Perhaps these methods were right . . . but after ten days of fruitless search he called in the Tribune Want Ad. It brought good secretaries aplenty . . . 60% of the applicants met the high standards he required . . . and he had more than fifty to choose from.

Just another normal instance of searching in the proper place and promptly finding what you seek. When you advertise in the Want Ad columns of the Tribune your "Help Wanted" sign is on the spot where more employers and prospective employees meet than in any other place in America . . . you put your needs before more Want Ad readers than you can reach with any other newspaper on earth.

The written language of both the Persian and the Afghan is the same.

The Afghan court and high society spoken language, too, is Persian; so is the common people's speech, but it is in a dialect not comprehended by the Persians. The welcoming mission was asked by the queen to lay aside the Persian vell, which is a face sized, rough, black covering attached to the head by a string. Ice cream was being served when a torrential rain drove them to cover.

In all the towns on their way to Teheran, the Afghan king and queen were given official receptions. Arrived at the garden, outside the city gate, they were met by the shah, who walked out with the large royal suite. The kings exchanged the usual kiss, the shah calling his visitor his best beloved brother. The queens entered an auto and moved across the very heavily crowded city streets to the country palace. The kings followed in the royal coach, preceded and followed by high officials on horseback in the garb of the ancient Persians.

Many were the grandlose ba quets given for the amir, but the queen was not invited, although the women of the foreign legations were. The Afghan queen was seen often, wearing her thin veil. The women of her suite went about without veils.

CHICAGO TITLE & TRUST COMPANY, CHICAGO, TRUSTEE

SECURITY: The bonds are secured by a closed first mortgage on the land owned in fee  $(66^{1}/2 \times 150 \text{ feet})$  at 1610 Sherwin Avenue, and a modern, high grade, seven-story fireproof reinforced concrete building to be erected. The mortgage is also a first lien on the earnings to be derived from the building.

The value of the building, land, furnishings and equipment is conservatively and independently appraised at $562,000. The bonds on the basis of this appraisal represent approximately a 59% loan.

LOCATION AND TRANSPORTATION: The property is located at 1610 Sherwin Avenue. This is in Rogers Park, one block from the Jarvis Avenue shopping district. It is a section which has just recently been re-zoned for higher buildings and is a substantial district of homes and small apartment buildings. The location is just west of North Ashland Boulevard—a short walk from Sheridan Road, four blocks south of Howard Avenue, and about three blocks from the lake. The Jarvis Avenue station of the Northwestern Elevated is one and one-quarter blocks away. Clark Street surface cars can be secured two blocks west; and motor bus service on North Ashland Boulevard, 100 feet east, and on Sheridan Road, two blocks east, provide this location with convenient transportation facilities to any part of the city.

BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT: The Sherland Apartments building will be a modern, seven-story fireproof, reinforced concrete structure, containing eighty-one furnished apartments. There will be thirty-one three-room apartments consisting of living room, beuroom and dinette-kitchenette, and fifty two-room apartments consisting of living room and dinette-kitchenette. All apartments will have in-a-dor beds and tile bathrooms and will be provided with mechanical refrigeration and ventilation. The exterior, being an adaptation of the English style of architecture, will be very attractive and distinctive and the building will be an outstanding one in the fine residential district in which it is located.

EARNINGS: The gross annual income is conservatively estimated at $93,710 per year. Operating expenses, taxes and allowances for vacancies that may occur are estimated at $38,000, leaving a net annual income of $55,710 which is two and four-fifths times the maximum annual interest requirement.

These bonds are offered subject to prior sale when, as, and if issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of Messrs. Rubens, Fischer, Mosser and Barnum, counsel for Leight & Company.

The Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company

For some time past the Directors of The Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company have been seriously concerned in regard to certain trends in the automobile industry, and more specifically, as to the effect of these trends on the business of your Company.

The Pierce Company has always produced a line of high grade cars and trucks, but the production of these has been limited. During the war, large expansions of plant facilities were made, which since the war, your Company has never been able to utilize to the best advantage, or anywhere near their capacity. While the Company's product has been of the highest grade, and has been accepted by the public as such, it has been increasingly difficult to secure adequate dealer representation, particularly in smaller centres, due to the fact that in many instances a dealer was unable to obtain a sufficient volume of business to operate at a profit on the Pierce-Arrow line alone, and was compelled, therefore, to take on an additional line of lower priced cars.

With the increase in size of automobile companies marketing lower priced cars and enjoying the advantages of mans production, it has been possible for these companies with their large resources and varied lines constantly to strengthen their dealer organization. The lack of similar advantages has placed all Pierce dealers under a serious handicap. In fact, it is a grave question in the minds of your Directors whether the isolated automobile unit can compete successfully in the long run with companies like General Motors, Studebaker, Chrysler, and others, whose volume of production, diversification and dealer organization give them a stability, buying power, and financial resources, far beyond those which can be commanded by a company having only limited production. That this situation is real is shown by the fact that your Company, notwithstanding excellent product and an efficient and loyal organization, showed a net loss for the year 1927 of $783,200.57, and for the first quarter of 1928 shows a further loss of $225,878.

on the Preferred Stock, on which there is now a large accumulation of arrears, and the prospects for dividends on the Common Stock therefore, are remote.

In view of the above conditions, but feeling that the name "Pierce-Arrow" has potential value, provided its plant can be properly utilized and volume secured through an enlarged dealer organization, your Directors have had a series of conferences with Mr. A. R. Erskine, President of The Studebaker Corporation, his associates and directors, and as a result of these conferences, The Studebaker Corporation, at its Directors' meeting held on Tuesday, June 26, 1928, approved the Plan of Reorganization and Consolidation, which is summarized below, which Plan, in the unanimous judgment of your Directors, is eminently fair and to the advantage of all stockholden

Corporation, at its Directors' meeting held on Tuesday, June 26, 1928, approved the Plan of Reorganization and Consolidation, which is summarized below, which Plan, in the unanimous judgment of your Directors, is eminently fair and to the advantage of all stockholders to accept.

The Studebaker Corporation is one of the oldest and largest manufacturers of automobiles; its product is world known; its efficient world wide dealer organization comprises about 6000 dealers; and its management is progressive and farseeing. The plan contemplates that Studebaker shall make a substantial cash investment in the Class B Stock of the new company to be formed under the Plan and become active in its management. It would be possible immediately, particularly in the smaller ceftres, for The Studebaker Corporation to throw the weight of its large and successful selling organization on the problem of the Pierce Company, wherever it is to the advantage of both corporations to do so. Furthermore it would give to the Pierce Company the benefit of lower costs through combining the purchase of the material requirements of The Studebaker Corporation with those of the Pierce Company, to the advantage of both. The product of the two companies is not competitive, but supplementary—an additional advantage to both.

Since The Studebaker and the New Company may from time to time enter into contracts for furnishing rough castings, forgings, stampings, etc. and other material for the New Company at a reasonable profit to Studebaker. Likewise to the extent that Pierce-Arrow facilities may be used in the Studebaker business similar contracts may be made between the New Company and Studebaker. It is also contemplated that Studebaker and the New Company may co-operate in other ways.

The strong position of the Studebaker Corporation in the automobile industry is indicated by the high level of earnings for the past several years and its sound financial condition. In 1927 net sales amounted to $134,007,798 and net profits to $11,937,862. Net profit and each holder of Common Stock of The Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company participating in the Plan will receive for each share thereof six-tenths of a share of Class A Stock of the New Company.

By order of the Board of Directors,

The Studebaker Corporation will invest $2,000,000 in cash in the New Company and will receive therefor all the Class B Stock of The Studebaker Corporation will invest $2,000,000 in cash in the New Company and will receive therefor all the Class B Stock of the New Company.

Unless The Studebaker Corporation shall otherwise elect, it shall be under no obligation to make such investment or proceed with the consolidation, unless the holders of at least 90% of the shares of Preferred Stock and the holders of at least 90% of the shares of Common Stock of The Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company shall have consented to the Plan before July 26, 1928.

5. Management, It is contemplated that Mr. A. R. Erskine, President of The Studebaker Corporation, will be Chairman of the Board of the New Company and that Mr. Myron E. Forbes, President of The Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company, will be President of the New Company.

First Mortgage Sinking Fund 6% Gold Bonds (Being part of an issue of $2,225,000 of which $125,000 are general mortgage bonds subordinate to the balance of the issue)

Due: 'August 1, 1943 Federal Income Tax not in excess of 2% paid by borrower. Various State Tax Refunded.

Trustee: STRAUS NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY OF CHICAGO Bonds Priced at Par and Accrued Interest.

We summarize as follows from a letter from the President of the borrowing corporation.

MORTGAGED PROPERTY: These bonds are secured by a direct closed first mortgage on land owned in fee located on the Southeast corner of South Wabash Avenue and East Harrison Street, having a frontage of approximately 120 feet on Wabash Avenue and 173 feet on Harrison Street, together with a 19-story steel and reinforced concrete fireproof office, garage and store building, to be erected thereon. The office portion of the building will occupy the upper 12 floors. This portion of the building will have a 40 foot setback on the South and with street frontages on both Wabash and Harrison Streets and an alley on the East side, it is assured adequate light and air on all four sides. The lower 7 stories will contain a thoroughly modern 600 car parking garage which will be equipped with every modern convenience to provide for quick and efficient handling of cars and the convenience and comfort of patrons. No cars will be parked on the first floor, so that the greater portion of space will be occupied by attractive stores and shops.

The location of the property less than 200 feet from Michigan Avenue. We summarize as follows from a letter from the President of the borrowing corpora

The location of the property, less than 200 feet from Michigan Avenue with its exclusive shops, and near to several of Chicago's leading hotels and theatres, is excellent for a garage. The office portion of the building is likewise excellently served by local transportation facilities and because of the moderate rates at which space can be profitably rented, it is expected the space will be quickly absorbed. The combination of a garage with office space has been shown by experience to be mutually helpful. Tenants will use garage space and will be attracted to sign leases because garage space is available.

VALUATION: Land and building, when completed, have been indepraised as follows: $1,213,360

Washington, D. Representatives of the association are on hand to appear before the radio commission tomorrow in behalf of the 162 stations which have been ordered to show their affirmative value to the communities in which they are located or lose their operating licenses. Mark listened anxiously for a sound at the front door. If Stephen turned it would be extremely awkward, and it was going to be awkward any case. He must get the girl away, to her friends or wherever she as staying, and he supposed he would have to know nothing if Stephen mentioned her. He remembered thankfully that Stephen scarcely mentioned mentioned her. He remembered thankfully that Stephen scarcely mentioned her and never with enthusiasm. As a matter of fact Stephen never mentioned his own affairs at all, being the most reticent of mortals.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Hows and Whys of Cooking. Probably the most serious cook book ever published is one just from the University of Chicago Press with the title, "Hows and Whys of Cooking."

title, "Hows and Whys of Cooking," by Evelyn G. Halliday, assistant profesors of home economics in the University of Chicago, and Miss Isabel T. Noble of the same institution.

This book is serious, but not serious in manner, except in so far as it is a book for students by students. Serious though it be, at the same time will delight and satisfy any one with a real curiosity about those hows and whys given in its pages, more exactly and precisely than in any save the best of the lengthy French recipes such as used to be in "Culina" and some other French cooking magazines, but there these reasons appear in a different light. Here they are direct councils of perfection.

Eight pages and a half of this bo of 175 pages are devoted to the sub-ject of baking powder biscuits—mostly the hows and whys, although nearly three pages are given to the actual recipe. Muffins, cakes, pies, candles and ice cream are taken up in the same detail, while the first chapter is devoted to vegetables, but meats

In a number of places in the book it says that it is prepared for the in-experienced. I am a little afraid that there are but few inexperies who would get right down to the necessary study required, although I have but recently received a flattering letter from one young woman who I know would, and I do believe that there are a large number of college trained women brides who are doing their own cooking. I know of one quite recent one, who has never had to turn her hand over in a home where were servants and her own attendants, who is starting out to do everything in her new but, I imagine,

For her such a fine direction as this would be of use: "It is not expected that any one should have these long recipes before her when she is actually cooking. In fact, if such a procedure is attempted, we can predict failure from the start, since the delay caused by trying to figure out what to do next and how to do it will in itself be sufficient to ruin the product."

Wheaton Women Open Their Flower Show at Noon Next Friday

BY THALIA -If you know what a mase the horural glories of a flower show can be, and have been dismayed by what was really what, you'll know just how smart are the women who are managing the Wheaton flower show at the little Trinity parish house in Wheaton this Friday. They are instituting an information committee in charge of Mrs. A. R. Patton, who is supposed to know as much about flowers and floriculture as anybody out that way. She is to be primed, evidently, to answer any and all questions put to her. Here's hoping she doesn't get any stumpers.

Mrs. George B. Dyche is chairman Mrs. George B. #### Which Is the Nicer Sex? English Author Argues for Feminine BY DORIS BLAKE.

If you're looking for an argument about the sexes you can leave alone for a while the one about which is the stronger sex and which the weaker and turn your attention to deciding which is the nicer sex. Only I wouldn't expect any conclusive verdict. As with political and religious arguments, you'll have your own opinion stilland so will the other fellow.

But Ethel Mannin, well known English novelist, piqued by the brickbats being hurled at the female sex, and particularly by the current way of referring to her as "hard," offers a few pointers you may find usable in trying convince the gentleman of the sec ond part of your argument.

She says: "Women are nice. If nobody else will say it for us we must say it for ourselves. It's only the old male reluctance to part with the old traditions that refuses to capitulate in the face of facts.

'It surely says a great deal for the so frequently belittled generosity of feminine nature that this last decade of criticism and abuse has not turned us into a generation of man haters If women had criticized men as sav agely as men have criticized women since the beginning of history in general and these last ten years in par-ticular, a race of misogynists would have sprung up and the life of human ity died out on a note of bitterness But women are not like that. That is what makes them so nice."

Miss Mannin contends that there is more loving kindness among women than among men. In her experience 'decent." and they have a great deal stronger sense of sisterhood among their kind than man has of protherhood among his. The rich mother and the po ormother meet on the common ground of their mother-hood as the rich father and the poor father can never meet on the com-mon ground of their fatherhood,

"Only women can love selflessly," the novelist says, "with that utter humility and lack of demand which is the esssence and the inmost meaning

As for woman's love of scandal and gossip, her's is more often than not a love of chatter with no actual malice n it. The male of the species is in-initely more deadly than the female, is Miss Mannin's experience.

Now, if that doesn't convince the boy friend as to which is the nicer sex tell him his is, and he'll say, your's is." And then you both can go out and vote as you please.
